DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections – 35 USC 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

a. In Claim 1, the term "substantially" is indefinite.

Claim Rejections – 35 USC § 103(a)

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Eates et al. (U.S. 5,789,329).

5. Eates discloses boron-free glass fibers having compositions consisting of SiO₂, CaO, Al₂O₃ and MgO where the glass contains no fluorine (abstract). Eates discloses the glass fiber compositions have values for delta T of a temperature and liquidus temperature is at least about 52 C (abstract). The reference discloses the components of the glass fibers along with its surface layer are composed of SiO_2 at 59 to 62.0%, CaO at 20 to 24%, Al_2O_3 at 12 to 15 %, MgO at 1 to 4% Column 3, lines 2-13). Eates does not disclose the thickness of the silicon dioxide content or the weight percent. Thickness and weight percentage are optimizable features. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to optimize the components because discovering the optimum or workable range is of routine skill in the art and the amount of SiO_2 used would be an optimizable amount.

Claim Rejections – 35 USC § 103(a)

6. Claims 4-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Eates et al. (U.S. 5,789,329) in view of JP-A-5-147975.

7. Eates is relied upon for claims 1-3. Eates does not disclose treating the surface of glass fiber in an aqueous solution of mineral acid. According to the prior art of the invention JP '975 teaches a heat resistant glass fiber obtained by immersing a glass fiber containing SiO_2 , CaO , Al_2O_3 and MgO , in the mineral acid, hydrochloric acid at a temperature of 40 to 70 C where the surface layer of the glass fiber is a silicic glass. Eates and JP '975 are analogous art because they are from the same field of glass fibers. It would have been obvious to treat the glass fibers of Eates with the hydrochloric acid because JP '975 teaches this is a known process in the art that increases the heat resistance of the glass fiber material.
